

GECMUN IX

Rules of Procedure

UNA-USA

Last updated on January 16, 2023

General Rules of Debate

- The decisions of the Chair are final, unless overridden by the Secretariat.
- Only the Secretariat, the Chair, a member of the house recognized by the Chair for a point or motion, or the speaker holding the floor has the right to speak.
- The Chair may extend or reduce debate times, limit the number of presenting sponsors or signatories, and rule any motions dilatory should they upset the flow of debate.
- Except by a decision of the Chair or Secretariat, there will be no suspension of the rules or changes in the order of debate.
- Direct conversation between delegates is prohibited, and must take place through the Chair or through note-passing.
- All delegates must adhere to the GECMUN Code of Conduct as identified on the onboarding form for the conference. Should an individual go against any of the terms outlined in the code, disciplinary measures will be taken to ensure the safety and well-being of the rest of the participants of the conference.

Agenda

1. The agenda is the main topic that will be debated inside the Committee;
2. The agenda is set by student officers and the secretariat;
3. A motion to set the agenda will be out of order for single-agenda Committees.

Roll Call

1. The Chair shall start each session by conducting a roll call where delegates may respond either present, or present and voting. Delegates will be called in alphabetical order.
 - a. Present: the delegate is present in the Committee and has the right to abstain during substantive voting procedures
 - b. Present and Voting: the delegate is present in the Committee and does not have the right to abstain during substantive voting procedures
2. The quorum is set to two-thirds of the Committee.
 - a. If a Committee has not met the quorum, the Chair should report back to the secretariat for further instructions.

Opening Speech

1. All delegates are required to present a maximum 90 seconds speech at the start of the conference.
2. Delegates are encouraged to present their country or character's stance and potential resolutions.

3. Once a delegate has spoken, any time remaining will be yielded back to the Chair.

Speakers' List

1. The Speakers' list serves as the default for the Committee if no points or motions are voiced by delegates. There is no limit on the amount of delegates who can be added to the list, but a country may not be added if they are already currently on the list; they may only appear once on the list at any given time.
2. Delegates can be added to the list at any time during a Committee session by notifying the Chair to be added.
3. The default speaking time for a delegate is one minute, but this can be left to the discretion of the delegate who proposes to open the list. Should the entire speaking time not be elapsed by a delegate, they must explicitly yield their time back to the Chair.

Yielding

1. Delegates may yield the remaining time of their speech (from a speakers' list and an authorship speech) in the following ways under the discretion of the chair:
 - a. Yield the time back to the chair,
 - b. If there's 30 or more seconds left, yield to Points of Informations:
 - i. Delegates shall specify the number of Points of Informations, or to any and all delegates
 - ii. Follow-ups are allowed, but not to the second degree,
 - c. If there's 30 or more seconds left, yield to another delegate:
 - i. Pre-yielding agreements are not required,
 - ii. Yielding to a second degree shall be out of order

Resolution

1. When sufficient debate has occurred, delegates must move to begin compiling ideas into a first draft of an eventual resolution.
2. Draft resolutions require sponsors and signatories, the specific number of each being up to the discretion of the Chairs based on the quorum of each Committee.
3. When the draft resolution is complete, sponsors must submit them to the Chair for feedback and preliminary edits. After feedback, the draft resolution can then be put upon the floor for further discussion.
4. Delegates are able to motion to present draft resolutions to the rest of the Committee. During this point in time, the Committee is now able to read through each proposed clause.

Amendment

After all draft resolutions have been presented and any motions for question period have been entertained, delegates who wish to modify any resolutions may put forward amendments. There are three types of amendments that delegates can submit:

- a) Add: these are the most constructive types of amendments that can be made to a resolution and are thus highly encouraged. These add new content to a resolution by adding a new clause, sub-clause, or sub-sub-clause.
- b) Modify: These amendments replace a certain section of a clause, sub-clause, or sub-sub-clause with something else.
- c) Strike: These types of amendments are discouraged due to their unconstructive nature, but can sometimes be necessary when the flaws of a clause, subclause, or sub-sub-clause are too overwhelming to be fixed.

When the floor is open, a delegate wishing to entertain their amendment may raise their placard and, if called upon, state that they believe they have submitted an amendment. Amendments are categorized into two categories: friendly and unfriendly.

- a) A friendly amendment indicates that all sponsors on a particular draft resolution accept and agree with the amendment that is being proposed. In this case, the Committee does not need to vote on the amendment, it is automatically approved and added to the resolution.
- b) An unfriendly amendment indicates that at least one main sponsor disagrees with the grounds of the amendment, and that it must be voted on by the entire Committee on whether or not it is added to the draft resolution. For this type of amendment, the Chair may entertain speakers for and against.

Voting

1. Two types of voting procedures shall be recognized by the Chairs:
 - a. Procedural vote,
 - b. Substantive vote,
2. Two types of Majority votes shall be recognized by the Chairs:
 - a. The Simple Majority, with more than one-half of the votes in favor of a motion,
 - b. The Supermajority, with more than two-thirds of the votes in favor of a motion,
3. A procedural vote pertains to all procedural matters including (in the order of precedence):

- a. Delegates who have responded “present and voting” during the roll call may not abstain from voting.

Right of Reply

1. When the delegate feels that his/her national/personal integrity has been violated or threatened by another delegate, he/she may send a note to the Chair to request a right of reply. Once granted, the delegate may speak for 30 seconds:
 - a. Under the Chair’s discretion, the accused delegate may respond to the right of reply.
